TALL WOOD BUILDINGS: DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION & PERFORMANCE
Wednesday, March 14, 2018

Carol Shields Auditorium, Millennium Library, 251 Donald Street, Winnipeg, MB
1.5 Structured Hours

Registration: 4:00 – 4:30 pm
Session: 4:30 – 6:00 pm

As the interest in Tall Wood buildings continues to grow in Canada and internationally, this lecture provides an overview of the challenges and opportunities this new typology brings for architects and engineers. With a focus on mass wood construction, and reference to completed projects from around the world, this presentation will review the current and emerging options and best practices with respect to material choice, structural systems, and building performance.

Attendees will be able to review the book Tall Wood Buildings: Design, Construction & Performance, and order copies at the discount price of $75.00.

REGISTRATION FOR THE SESSION IS LIMITED AND WILL BE ACCEPTED ON A FIRST COME, FIRST SERVE BASIS.

Presenter: Jim Taggart

As an author and educator, Jim has researched, written and lectured on the use of wood in contemporary architecture for more than 20 years. He has presented professional development seminars in 50 cities across North America and around the world, and written more than 100 technical case studies and articles for the Canadian wood industry, professional and trade publications. His book 'Toward a Culture of Wood Architecture' won an Independent Publishers (IPPY) Award in 2012, and 'Tall Wood Buildings: Design, Construction & Performance' written with Michael Green and published in 2017, is already in its second printing. Jim is a Fellow of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, and was the recipient of the 2012 Premier of British Columbia's Wood Champion Award.
